A Sustainable Home Restores Stability for Ali and His Family in Marib's Camps

In a displacement camp in Marib Governorate, Ali—a man with a mobility disability—lived with his family of six in a worn-out tent that offered barely any protection from the bitter winter cold or the intense summer heat.

In response to his situation and similar cases, the Coalition of Relief and Building (CRB) provided a sustainable housing unit with two rooms, a bathroom and a kitchen, built of brick and reinforced concrete and adapted to the needs of persons with disabilities, funded by the World Assembly of Muslim Youth (WAMY).

> "I went through hard times. The bitter winter cold got into my bones, and before going to sleep I had to put on all my heavy clothes."

> "My life changed completely after moving into this house. It feels like a dream I never want to wake up from. I no longer suffer from the cold or the intense heat, and today I feel safe and settled with my family."
